WOMEN AS LEADERS CERTIFICATION

ACTUATE ALWAYS AHEAD

Preparing women for senior leadership, board-level responsibility and beyond

Why Actuate?

Actuate goes beyond theory by embedding leadership development into real business contexts, ensuring participants apply what they learn directly to their roles.

Programmes are led by experienced female practitioners who have held senior roles themselves. Their experience brings depth, challenge, and authenticity to each session, creating a standard of development far beyond traditional training.

This is not generic leadership education. It is shaped by people who understand the realities of leadership - the pressure, the expectations - and the added complexity many women navigate as they step into and operate within senior roles.

Actuate is trusted by people and organisations that want leadership development to be taken seriously - not as a procedural formality, but as a rigorous, high-quality development experience delivered by people who understand what exceptional leadership truly requires.

The Actuate Global team brings a rare combination of professionalism, authenticity, and deep expertise.

As a woman in a senior role, I appreciated how they created a safe environment where I could explore challenges honestly and build practical strategies for leading with confidence.

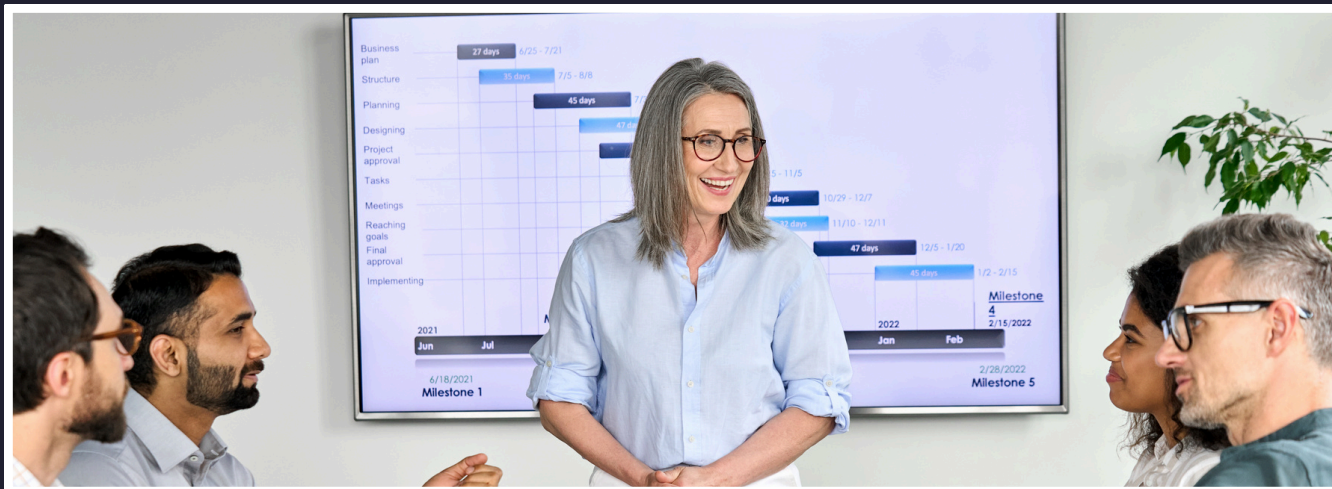

Why Actuate?

More Than a Certificate – A Career-Long Partnership

Your development does not end with certification - it continues through an active, trusted community, ongoing events, and continued access to senior-level insight and challenge with a strong emphasis on elevating female representation and voice at senior levels.

Every element is designed to raise standards - from rigorous assessment to direct, actionable feedback. The focus is not just participation, but progression.

Actuate is chosen by individuals and organisations who expect leadership development to deliver measurable impact, not just credentials.

Gain a Prestigious ILM Leadership Qualification

As part of the Women as Leaders Certification, you'll earn an ILM-accredited qualification, recognised within the UK qualifications framework. This formal recognition validates your leadership capability and strengthens your professional profile.

Strengthen Your Confidence, Presence, and Career Progression

Apply practical leadership tools to real-world challenges. Graduates showcase digital credentials and recognised certification across CVs, LinkedIn, and professional platforms - enhancing credibility, visibility, and career progression.

Become Women as Leaders Certified

More Women Leading. More Women Advancing. More Change.

By the end, you will be:

- Visible at Senior Level
- Proven Leadership Capability
- Trusted Decision Maker
- Credential-Backed

Who is this for?

Aspiring and emerging women leaders preparing to step into greater scope and seniority

High-potential talent on succession plans who need greater confidence, stakeholder navigation skills, and board-level readiness

Women managers and functional leads seeking stronger influence, visibility and cross-business impact

Organisations committed to accelerating female leadership and improving gender balance across pipelines and succession.

Why Become Women as Leaders Certified

And Why You Should Do It With Actuate

Strong female talent often stalls before senior roles due to visibility gaps, confidence barriers, and lack of sponsorship. This programme tackles these obstacles directly to build a more balanced and representative leadership pipeline.

Actuate's Women as Leaders Programme is built around the realities women face in modern organisations. The learning experience is practical, supportive, and grounded in real challenges, from navigating visibility to leading with confidence in high-stakes environments. Our facilitators bring genuine lived experience, offering guidance that feels relevant, honest, and immediately useful.

The programme strengthens each participant's leadership profile by pairing a respected qualification with practical, immediately applicable capability. Women learn to make clearer decisions under pressure, navigate complex organisational dynamics, and demonstrate tangible leadership impact - positioning them strongly for progression and new opportunities.

Through tailored CV and LinkedIn support, women become more visible, more discoverable, and more compelling to decision-makers. This blend of accredited development and strategic personal positioning enables women to step forward with confidence and be recognised as the leaders they are.

I have been working with Maria Banks since last summer, who has been offering support through coaching and mentoring. Maria is supportive, encouraging, and inspiring and is helping me navigate my ongoing journey to move towards an NED role in the future. The time I spend with her is one of the best personal investments I have ever made for myself. I would highly recommend Maria and Actuate Global.

Linda was attentive, I felt comfortable & heard, which is so important when training as a coach.

Linda has a wonderful way of explaining the material & building one's confidence.

I look forward to continuing to my next session with her
